Investigation 13-03-007

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE'S RULING MAKING AVAILABLE REPORTS PUBLISHED BY SAFETY AND ENFORCEMENT DIVISION

On January 22, 2013, the Assigned Commissioner issued a Scoping Memo in this proceeding regarding the Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) request for authority to increase its gas and electric distribution and electric revenue requirements by $1.282 billion for its General Rate Case (GRC) test year 2014.

As indicated in the Scoping Memo issued on January 22, 2013, this proceeding shall consider reports prepared under the direction of the Safety and Enforcement Division (SED). These reports were to be issued in response to the directive of the Commission's Executive Director on March 5, 2012 and in anticipation of PG&E's testimony which was to include a risk assessment of its gas distribution, and electric distribution and generation systems.

SED hired two consultants to evaluate risk assessments, risk mitigation, programs and policies, as well as PG&E corporate policies, goals, culture and the efforts being made to bolster system safety and security. These two reports have been completed.

The due date of May 17, 2013 was set for release of the reports on the evaluation of PG&E's risk assessment and mitigation programs and policies. A separate and third report on the results of a financial audit of PG&E's gas distribution system is to be released on May 31, 2013. These reports were to be made available to parties through issuance of an ALJ ruling.

As indicated in the Assigned Commissioner's Scoping Memo, the two reports scheduled for release on May 17, 2013, are hereby made available to the parties as attached to this ruling.

As also noted in the Scoping Memo, a follow up workshop has been scheduled for June 12, 2013 to provide parties the opportunity to ask questions or seek clarifying information regarding the reports. If necessary, SED consultants can be made available to testify on the contents of their reports during the scheduled evidentiary hearings.

IT IS RULED that pursuant to the Assigned Commissioner's Scoping Memo previously issued in this proceeding, the reports, attached to this ruling, are hereby provided to parties and are made a part of the record.

Dated May 17, 2013, at San Francisco, California.
